PREFACE.

The Editors have pleasure in presenting the fourth volume of the Cheshire series, being the third part of the important and bulky registers of the great parish of Prestbury. Though these registers cover so large an area of the County, and, with their full particulars as to vocation, residence, etc., of the parties, are of great value to genealogists, it is realized that many of the subscribers would prefer three or four older registers of smaller parishes before finishing those of Prestbury for the 18th century. It is hoped, therefore, to make such a departure in the next volume.

As before, the entire labour of making the abstracts of the Prestbury Marriages in this volume has been done by Mr. Leopold Choice.

For the explanation of the contractions in the place names (hamlets within the parish, etc.), the reader is referred to the table on pages 4-7 of Cheshire, Vol. II. (Prestbury, Part I.)
